Dear Parent/Carer,

As we approach the end of the first half term, we do so under unusual circumstances with students continuing their studies remotely for the final week. I would like to thank students as well as parents/carers for their hard work and flexibility in what has been a successful first half term at Grace Academy.

I would like to commend the children for their hard work in completing the remote learning activities, the engagement with their teachers through live lessons and learning feedback forms highlights the high quality learning that has taken place.

Throughout the first half term, teaching staff have been working closely with students to support their learning by identifying strengths as well as areas for development in all subjects. We will be sending out a summary report of these findings for year 7 students in November.

One of the reasons that students make such good progress at Grace Academy is a strong partnership between teaching staff and yourselves. This is based on consistent and high quality communication which regular assessment reports form the basis of. I have included a guide to assessment point reports at Grace Academy so you know what to expect when these are released.

We have had conversations with many parents/carers regarding progress both pastorally and academically over the past few months and I would welcome anyone to contact the year seven team or a particular subject teacher at the academy if you require any other support.

Your sincerely

Miss Holmes
Head of Year 7
